LOWELL TRADE — VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOLS

Dedication

WE, THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1968, ARE DEDICATING
THIS, OUR YEARBOOK, TO THE MEN WHO ARE SUFFERING
IN THE TASK OF COMMUTTING FREEDOM TO THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH VIET NAM.

WE INCLUDE, ALSO, THE MEN WHO HAVE ALREADY FOUGHT
AND DIED IN THIS VALIANT EFFORT.

MAY PEACE, SOMEDAY, FALL AMONGST ALL MEN.

ARTHUR E. MC GLINCHEY

THOMAS J. SULLIVAN

CHARLES P. CONLON
DIRECTOR

The education which you have been given confers on you responsibilities which we earnestly hope that you will assume. In today's world, you will be leaders and to those whom you lead you must give the inspiration for good citizenship and all the other qualities which have been instilled in you. May you be ever successful in this and may you develop a true leadership in others.

Graduation isn't the end of learning. You learn as long as you live, and you find in life exactly what you put into it. My congratulations and best wishes for your success.

PROPHECY

It's now 1983. It is fifteen years since we graduated from good old Trade. Times have changed since we graduated, the Beatles are bald, Elvis lost his hounddog, shirts are shorter, buildings are higher everything is bigger, better, faster and groovier.

Joe Connors and Paul Nowak are now the chief editors of Playboy. They thought it would be fun contacting everyone from the Class of 68. As they said, "our travels took us to Maine, where we saw Marty Veiga and Frank Juszczak building a wooden frame for the 1984 G.T.O's thinking that this will make them famous and rich. It will be manufactured as soon as one of them gets brave enough to test it. They told us that Butch Garneau and Tom Flemming were at the beach testing a new enlarged surf board for their old friend Tiny Tim. Our next stop was Cape Kennedy in Florida where we saw Frank Fay and John Maloney. We asked them what they were doing. They told us they signed a contract with the government to build 1,000 out houses on the moon so we will have some place to go when we get up there. We took a plane to Fort Knox where we saw Dave McFadden and Rudy Misiasek, they were both happily married and told us they were now making wooden nickels, because of the shortage of gold. Dave told us that Bob Noel and Tom Paton had opened up a toothpick factory in the Sahara Desert and were doing very well. We then went to Boston where we bumped into Bernie Champagne who said he was now the manager of the Boston Celtics and that his star players were Dick Bouchard and John Vail. Bernie told us that Bob Dymont and Frank Connor own a company making bed frames in New Jersey. We took a trip up there to see Bob and Frank. As we walked into the office we saw Bob and he told us Frank was asleep testing the merchandise. They were doing extremely well and both were catching up on their sleep. We read in the paper that Steve Kowalski, Arthur Silva, Henry Tallard and Dave Wallace had won a Nobel prize for building a bridge from California to Hawaii. We congratulated Steve and he told us that Arthur and he started from California and Henry and Dave from Hawaii and they were to meet halfway. They would have been finished sooner except that Henry and Dave started from the wrong end of the island. We then took a train to Texas where Dick Beaubien and Dennis Brodeur were the chief engineers at a large oil plant. We talked to Dick over a bowl of chicken soup, using one of his own chickens he raised back here in Lowell on his own chicken farm which he owned when he was going to Lowell Trade. He told us they were doing very well. Bill Foy, Roland Smith and Steve Rybicki are working as head designers for Bell Telephone Co. and they told us they were still working on the "shoe phone". They said they got the idea from some T.V. show. We then talked to Marc Grandchamp who told us he was the chief mechanic for the Marc V which is going to be driven by Richard (AJ) Jalbert in the Indianapolis 500. We wished them a lot of luck. Our travels also took us to Detroit where we talked to Joe Kirane who now owns General Motors. He told us Robert Litchfield was working for him as a janitor and was really cleaning up on the deal. Joe told us that Jack Spinney and Wayne Le Gacy owned the Land S garages, a chain stretching from Maine to Florida. Leo Page and David Taylor, both in the Army's motor pool, said they'd be generals by now if the Commander-In-Chief's car hadn't blown up. Norm "Herk" Rondeau now a retired millionaire from the car business, has opened up a health club. He was the former Mr. Universe of 1982. Tom Cox and Paul Sarkisian have both opened a garage and specialize in Chevrolets. They both are doing very well. On our way to the North Pole we talked to Bob Sousa who told us he was working day and night on a new engine, which would run on flower power. He told us he was happily married with fifteen kids. No wonder why he is working day and night. We then talked to Ralph Lally (now retired, unbeaten middleweight champ) and Gene Pare' who told us they owned the L & P electrical shop. When we finally reached the North Pole we saw Rol- and Marchand and Ronald Paquette who told us they were wiring all the igloos over there and said they couldn't wait for their vacation so they could go to Florida and warm up. Bill Ste. Marie and Gerry Desrosiers are now teachers at the new Lowell Trade and said they like their jobs very much although they spend most of their time in the Girls' school. Bill told us Arthur Brunelle is now the Governor of Massachusetts and was going to run for President as soon as his term as Governor ends. We then ran into Peter Farley who told us that Ken Leedburg, Cliff Pelland and Bob Wilson and he were working on a new extra large lightbulb, so we will have daylight all day long. It will be finished as soon as they catch the person who keeps on using it for target practice. Tim Noyes and Phil Wagner are now the new owners of J.H. Wain Co. Their chief tool and die makers are Danny Flanagan and Dick DeCarteret. We then talked to Norm Desmarais and Bill Greenleaf who also own their own Machine shop. They said they do many odd jobs but for the most part are making gun barrels for Mr. Fuller. Bill told us that Henry Ducharme is working for the Army making a 5,000 yard pea shooter which the Army is going to use as a secret weapon, Henry is also taking breathing exercise so he can test it out. We then went to New York where we saw Eddie Corcoran who now owns his own shop where he upholsters nothing but the finest furniture. While we were in New York we saw Bruce Lessieur and Bob Matthews undertaking the fantastic feat of painting the Empire State Building with an inch wide brush. Bruce told us that Bill Mulligan and Norm Routhier were working for Dupont in the research department developing a poker dot paint, he said he thought that the best they could do so far was a checker board paint. Well we hope they keep on trying. We glance at Donna Bordeleau who is a model at a shop called "Out of Site" . The business is owned by Dolly Cote and is managed by Janice Dion. Both Donna and Janice are married and expecting in one month. Dolly Cote plans to marry in the middle of June. While the business moves on. Lucy Cloutier and Helen Clark keep in touch by letters and telephone. Have you heard the latest? Pauline Brunelle is vacationing in Europe. Did you know that Claudette Bouchard established a newspaper called "The Love of School". In it she includes a chapter on "How much I enjoyed leaving." In the School Superintendent's department, Nancy Machado is the Principal. Her secretary is Lynda Christie. We all heard of the political scene, well Kathy Koziarski is running for President of Japan where they can't understand English. Her campaign manager is Lorraine Montmarquet who writes in Japanese, "If you want to go wacky vot for Kathy". Her opponent is Mary Pitman who comes from Cloud 9.

On the "Hit Parade" we see Linda Freitas singing "Love is Cool" It is her biggest hit yet. Annette Gagnon is a skillful manager and has sky rocketed Linda to success in the world of records. Janet Blanchette, who now owns her own ballroom, is running a special show for Linda in the near future. We see Joanne Abreau working as an airline stewardess for a national airline. While working she met Louise Blanchette and Alice Brouillard, two of her old school mates who were very popular in her class. Meanwhile we find Stella Dagoumas married and owner of a drug store, Denise Martin is employed by her. Therese Boisvert, who lives in a big white house, is married to the President. Anne Marshall is the mother of three lovely children. Joanne Marchand is working as a model for one of the top stylists in London. Pauline Boutin is sharing an apartment and her roommate is Claire Morin. They both work part time in a department store. Sandra Nicholas assists her husband in his insurance agency. Collette Kexouac is working as a secretary for a law firm. Denise Mainville now owns a very successful beauty salon, and is happily married.

Let's take you to the home of Ernestine Alexander as she sits in a rocking chair and sings to her five lovely children, while her husband is working for a local D.J. Charlene Beaulieu is working at a high fashion salon on Sunset Boulevard. Claire Boissoneault is married and attending cooking class at a Y.W.C.A. Diane Boucher is now modeling for the latest Twiggy fashions. Joanne Caron takes care of the house while her husband attends college. Betsy Fadden is in the convent and does many good deeds everyday. Linda Flynn is married and has three children. Linda works in a downtown department store. Judy Gilbert, one of the wealthiest girls on the block, is now looking for Henry the VIII. Debbie James still patiently works by the bedside of sweet old people. Nancy Lefebvre is married and has four children, and in her spare time works in a beauty salon. Vickie Jean is with the "In Crowd" while her husband is making his way into office. Collette Marcouillier works in the White House as the First Lady's hairdresser. Sue Marr works as her assistant. Doris Piche was found in New York, cutting men's hair. Claire Noel is head of the Nutrition Department in a local hospital.

From what we saw of our graduating class, everybody was very successful and very happy so we can really say in truth that the Class of '68" was the greatest.

"REMEMBER WHEN"

CLASS POEM

Charlene Beaulieu

In future years when our careers we are pursuing
Perhaps only then will we feel the fullest blossoming
Of thankfulness for dedicated teaching
As we apply the lessons taught.

Sometimes days were stormy and the road seemed long
As we learned to persevere, techniques and facts we soon absorbed
But looking back we realize how trained we were to surge ahead
To learn and learn throughout our lives
That we may better serve another's need
Thank you TRADE for priceless years.

BASKETBALL

The '67-'68 season was another fine one for the Traders. The team finished second in league play with a total of 7 wins and 3 losses. Over all it was 10 and 8.

Lowell did well in all respects with sharp shooter John Vail breaking all City records. He tallied 442 points to win the schoolboy scoring championship. Other Seniors who played well were Dick Bouchard with 193, Bob Sousa with 44, Roland Marchand and Paul Nowak both getting clutch baskets when needed.

The team should do well next year. They will be doing some rebuilding, but have many fine prospects from the J.V. squad.

Some of the outstanding sophomores and juniors were Rich Bastien captain-elect, Moe Beausoleil and Dennis Matte.

The Seniors would like to wish Coach Slattery and next year's team the best of luck and "Here's to a championship!"

The "68" season was a very interesting one for it consisted of only two Seniors, Dick Bouchard and Marty Veiga. They did a fine job for the Traders. The future should be promising for Coach Slattery, since he had a fine turnout of Freshmen. It was well organized, and had the best coaching in the city. Trade is very proud of these athletes.
